DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

"The religion which Jesus proclaimed must be disentangled from the religion which has taken Jesus as its object." (Amiel.) The creed of Jesus is a life not a dogma, a force not a definition. Liberal men and women accept this creed for it is the Christian creed. It was not made by a church. Love to God implies the Fatherhood of God, for there is only one God we can love; One who is a Father to us. Love to our neighbor implies the Brotherhood of man, for we are not told where our neighbors end. This is a glorious gospel, an all-Father and a Humanity divine in being, if not a present in character.

You say it's a poor gospel, do you? You ask me if Christianity does not include a creed, a ritual, a prayer meeting, a sermon, a conversion, a Bible? I answer that the religion of Jesus is independent of all these. The religion of Jesus is to live the life of God in the service of Humanity. That is what He did, and that is what you and I have to do. If you think it only half a religion, try it before you tell me so. It may be that when your life is full of love—and here remember, love is not sentiment but untiring moral and spiritual earnestness—love to God and love to man, you will feel as Jesus felt that there is nothing inadequate about love, that the only eternal religion is the religion of love.

KEZAR FALLS.

Cross-Sullivan
On the evening of Jan. 1st a very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Almoner Cross, when their son, Perley, was united in marriage to Gertrude Sullivan of Winnipeg, Canada. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and well filled with friends from near and far. The bride party stood under a large floral bell, Rev. H. A. Pearce officiating, and W. T. Norton and Florence R. Gardner serving as best man and bride's maid. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk and veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

A nice collation was served during the evening. There was also an abundance of candy and oranges at one of the stores with a card bearing the compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Cross. The ladies were not forgotten this time, as some times appears to be the case when only cigars are offered.

There were numerous wedding presents and Mr. and Mrs. Perley Cross start out in life with the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

On Friday last occurred the death of Lester Jilison, one of Otisfield's best known and stirring citizens. Mr. Jilison suffered a paralytic stroke on Monday, Dec. 31, and did not regain consciousness. Mr. Jilison has been in the produce and grocery business many years. He was a familiar figure on our streets, as he did the most of his teaming himself, drawing his groceries from the station to his store in Otisfield. The funeral services were held at the house, Sunday.

Funeral services were held on Friday at the home of Mrs. Mary Smith, at which place Mrs. Wing died, and the interment was in Town-house cemetery.

Saturday afternoon, a goodly number of spectators saw the first race over the new speedway. A. S. Fuller behind his horse and Perley McAllister with his power gave a good account of themselves and clearly showed that although being amateurs they were not far outclassed by the professionals. Perley was a trifle nervous, due no doubt to his many cars and want of sleep. Mr. Fuller won both heats and "set up" the cigars all around. Dandy Joe gave one impression that there was considerable reserve left, and if properly trained and driven ought to be a good money winner this season.

Colby College Items.

Henry Harriman of the class of 1910 has just returned from a two weeks' vacation which he spent with relatives in Norway and Portland.
Ralph Penfold, who lives in South Paris and is a member of the class of 1911 is unable to continue his college course on account of serious trouble with his eyes. "Penny" showed up well on the foot ball team last fall and was presented at the close of the term with a Colby C. His many friends hope to see him here another fall as it will be very hard to find another man to take his place on the team.

The ball team is out for practice every night and it is hoped that by persistent training we may be able to capture the pennant.
Walking is the popular exercise at Colby this winter. There is scarcely a street in the city on pleasant afternoons which is not spotted by some enthusiast for this kind of sport.

A new course, mechanical drawing, has been established by the faculty and is being taken up with great interest by the students.

A Generous Offer.

Worthy Poor Benefited by an Old Custom Renewed for New Year's
This paper is glad to assist in the work of keeping up a charitable custom which was inaugurated more than fifty years ago by Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., a custom carried on in his name by the makers of Father John's Medicine. The custom has been to give to such of the worthy poor who are unable to pay for it and who were properly vouchered for by some responsible person (in order to guard against abuse of this kindness) a supply of the medicine. This custom, which was begun by the good and lovingly remembered priest for whom the medicine was named, has been admirably continued by Carleton & Hovey Company of Lowell, Mass., and it is to this institution that the names of any deserving poor in need of a wholesome and pure medicine free from alcohol or injurious drugs, and which is endorsed by hospitals, clergy, and institutions, should be sent. We take pleasure in calling attention to this custom and the fact that the Carleton & Hovey Company is trying to brighten the New Year for the unfortunate.
A reliable man with some knowledge of carpentering can have work and fair pay at Bradford, Mass. See ad. and for particulars and prices write W. E. Harriman, Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass.

Strange Names Amid Oxford Hills.

The Oxford Democrat publishes a list of costs allowed by the Supreme court in criminal cases originating before the Rumford Falls Municipal court. It is a long list, and in it there are such names as Papapa, Italian, Procopio, Ferland, Valles, Sowickie, Potvin, Ayles, Salatin, Robar, Nappi, Serrelin, Dugie, Fortier, Jonitus, Langevin, Schobert, Nogues, and once in a while such an English appearing name as Ross, Benson and West.
The Portland Press adds: These latter, however, are so rare as almost to be lost in the shuffle. "English, Norman and Dane are we," and also Greek and Italian and French and Pole and German and Jew and Gentile. There may also be as well as other nationalities. Further along the same names, many of them, are also found in the list of costs allowed in the judicial court before the grand traverse juries.

They are published according to law, and the inference is that most are in connection with infractions of the liquor laws. It is not many years since such an outlandish collection could not have been raked together in the whole length and breadth of the State.
Our new manufacturing towns are evidently attracting denizens from remote and diverse parts of the earth and becoming polyglot; and some of the new acquisitions are not the most desirable either. It is to be supposed that the services of interpreters are necessary at court sessions up the Androscoggin.

How to Use a Chafing Dish Lamp.

The first time the chafing dish lamp is used pour a little alcohol into it, let it stand for a few minutes and fill up.
If the lamp gives out before the cooking is finished, let the lamp cool a little before refilling, as the igniting point of alcohol is low. Always have a metal tray under the chafing dish. Never leave the alcohol bottle uncorked, as the fumes ignite very easily. If you have been careless in this regard and the contents of the bottle ignite, don't scream or faint or throw water on the flame. Simply cap your hand over the mouth of the bottle. This will extinguish the flame at once. Use sherry sparingly in making lobster or crab Newburg, since alcohol has a toughen-ing effect on fish.

How to Dry an Umbrella.

The best way to dry an umbrella and to preserve it is to leave it spread on the floor or in the hall. When there is not enough room to allow that, reverse the usual method and stand the umbrella in the corner with the handle down. The rain drips quicker off the points. The ordinary way collects all the water at one place, where the cloth dries slowly, and therefore rots the quicker. Never put several wet umbrellas together in an umbrella stand.

How to Make Polish For Linoleum.

Beeswax and turpentine polish for linoleum is hard to beat as far as its appearance is concerned, but it has one defect—it causes a slipperiness which may be very dangerous to children and old people. A polish which has no such objection is made of equal parts of linseed oil and vinegar. Apply a little to a flannel cloth, rub it well on the linoleum and polish with a clean dry cloth.

How to Clean Carafes.

Rice is invaluable for cleaning car-afes and oil and vinegar cruets. For the oil cruet use warm water and a little washing soda to remove the oil. Then put in a tablespoonful of rice with warm soapuds, shake vigorously and rinse in clear water. Do not use the soda in vinegar. For a water or wine carafe use at least two tablespoonfuls of rice and several lumps of soda.

How to Keep Butter Without Ice.

Fill a bowl with cold water. Put the butter on a plate and put on top of the bowl; then take a piece of butter muslin and put over the butter and let both ends drop into the water. You can easily get the butter for use, and you will find it is quite solid and cool.

How to Stain a Floor.

A simple stain for floors may be made by coloring linseed oil with ground burnt umber. Rub well into the boards with a flannel pad. This stain goes right into the wood and is therefore very durable.

PLAIN, SIMPLE, CHRISTIAN TEACHING.
EDITOR ADVERTISER:—As one of your far away readers I note with pleasure and satisfaction the addition during the past two weeks of a little religious department to your valued paper and heartily congratulate you upon it.

"The Paragraph Fulfillment," if continued, as I hope it may be, and kept in the line of plain, simple Christian teaching, to the little, entirely non-essential and unimportant difference of belief among your unsectarian columns—will be a valuable addition to your ever welcome paper.

Short heart to heart talks each week on the Christian essentials, love to God and love to man, will be looked forward to with interest, will make their impression on all who read, and will lend a strongly keeping hand toward the cause of good Christian living, which means straightforward, honest dealing and loving, which means showing love to God and loving one's neighbor; which means added comfort and happiness and the truest and highest joy of life. J. M.

views between Cynthia and her lovers are very funny and most excellently played.

It is notable that the play in every sense gave evidence of that careful preparation for which the Club is distinguished. An excellent orchestra of local musicians gave fine music during the play and for dancing afterwards, till past midnight. It is composed of the following gentlemen: Chas. E. Packard, violin; W. C. Noble, cornet; H. T. Holt, trombone; G. E. Packard, piano.

One of the most interesting features of the landscape surrounding our village is Bear mountain. Another, invisible to the eye but not independent of the picturesque scene mentioned, is the remarkable ledge discovered many years ago by residents near the shore of the little lake, whose surface mirrors the broad cliff on the western side of the mountain. This reflection is quite as charming to the eye, as are the sounds, from the mountain and other points in the vicinity.

A year or two ago another echo of equally interesting character was discovered by the family of Dr. Sylvester while residing in their summer cottage on the western shore. They were first surprised to hear singing in a clear soprano tone, seemingly located on the western shore some distance away, opposite the face of the cliff. Then at various times the music of a flute floated down from the occupants of the Sylvester woods bordering the western shore in the came the melody of the unknown singer, and the blended harmonies of her piano accompaniment.

Some investigation of the sources of these mysterious free concerts the singer was found to be a young lady residing in the lower section of the village on the Harrison road; and the flute player was discovered to be a gentleman temporarily with a family in the upper part of the village near the Methuen pond, known by the names of "Bear lake" and "Echo lake," are the contributors of rare forms of entertainment to the local inhabitants and to the sejourers within its environs.

your far away readers I note with pleasure and satisfaction the addition during
heartily congratulate you upon it.
"The Paragraph Pulpit," if continued,
free from any controversy whatever, as unimportant differences of belief among

A Communication.
F. W. SANBORN:—The ADVERTISER recently printed a sermon by Rev. E. A. Rumball of Watford. Now I seldom read sermons; but if you can get Mr. Rumball or others of his ability to write occasionally it will be greatly appreciated, and I shall have to depart from my usual way of skipping all but the local.

Mr. Rumball presents to me a rational view of religion, I having always been taught that without dogma, creed, etc., there was no religion. I never believed it, and to find an able, intelligent preacher expounding views which I have always held, but hardly dared to publicly express, is very gratifying.

I attended the funeral of a dear friend of our family recently. The occasion was extremely sad and the position of the minister to me seemed trying. Mr. Rumball officiated. After hearing him I was convinced that his "sermon" was a very good one. The Universalist pulpit will be supplied next Sunday as she will be absent only one Sunday.

The Universalists had their special Christmas music, intended for the Sunday evening before Christmas, last Sunday. It being postponed on account of inclement weather. The program was very interesting and contained solos, duets and several selections by the choir.

Our six weeks' school will soon finish and then no school again until May. What is wrong about our school system? With one room and one teacher schools were better and larger. The boys took turns building fires and the girls swept the floors, dispensing with service of a janitor. Children walked three miles to school, now they must be carried one mile at the towns expense. Our young people go to Bridgton and the old-time high school is no more. Are we behind the times or the time behind us? Yet you taxpayers are asleep and say nothing.
